Encourage Year-Round Gratitude

November may be the month when we focus on being thankful, but that's an attitude we can express each day. Even during tough economic times or family hardships, we all have many blessings for which to be grateful. God gives us life and takes care of us. He loves us and sent his Son, Jesus, to die for us. He puts many special people, including our children, into our lives.

Let your children know you're grateful for them—and also that they can show gratitude to you, to other people, and to God. Here are some ideas for cultivating thankfulness throughout the year:

Live out your thankfulness. Gratitude is contagious. When your kids see you giving thanks in all circumstances, they'll learn to do the same. Remember to thank your children for everything from helping around the house to helping you grow in your own faith.

Highlight biblical examples of thankfulness. Scripture is full of "great gratefulness." Hannah was grateful that God blessed her with a child (see 1 Samuel 2:1). Jesus forgave and healed many people, most of whom were thankful in return. Paul's letters often begin and end with thankful messages, and many psalms overflow with gratitude to God. As you worship with your children, point out all the ways that God's people give thanks.

Lead children in thank-you activities. Together, brainstorm people in your community or church who'd appreciate an unexpected thank you. Then come up with creative, meaningful ways to say thanks joyfully. Children can deliver thanks with cards, a prayer, a skit, a song, or even a PowerPoint presentation. Be sure to thank kids for their enthusiasm and contributions.

An Abundance of Thanks

In a survey at smartgirl.org, more than 400 preteen girls spoke up about what they're most thankful for. Top responses, in order, were parents, friends, health, siblings, grandparents, and pets. Girls said they chose those people and things because they make them feel happy and safe. Girls then completed the statement "I feel guilty for being thankful for..." with these answers: money, Internet, television, clothes, makeup, music, and video games.

Parenting Insights

Turn on children's "gratitude lights" with these tips from Children's Ministry Magazine:

1. Encourage the language of thankfulness. If children neglect to show gratitude, prompt them with words such as "What can you say to your friend for sharing?"
2. At unexpected times, give small gifts. Let children know you think of them often and always thank God for them.
3. Affirm children's feelings of gratitude. When you observe physical demonstrations such as eyes that light up, say, "I can see how much you're thankful for that."
4. Model thankfulness in the little things. Thank your children for picking up something you drop or for being patient with a sibling.

“Enter his gates with thanksgiving.... Give thanks to him and praise his name. For the Lord is good. His unfailing love continues forever, and his faithfulness continues to each generation.”
Psalm 100:4-5

God deserves our praises not just because he blesses us but because of who he is: our good, mighty, just, and loving God.

Teachable Moments

- 1. Cornucopia of Thanks— Together, choose some items that remind your family to be thankful (an apple, a toy car, a stuffed animal, a key, a school paper). Place them in a cornucopia or basket so family members can think about God’s blessings often.
- 2. Thankfulness Makes “Sense”— Serve a special snack while playing soft music and using potpourri. Then have children use their five senses to notice some blessings that they usually take for granted.
- 3. Don’t “Leaf” Anything Out— Cut out leaf shapes on colorful construction paper. Then have family members write about people or things for which they’re grateful. Tape the stems onto string to make a festive garland filled with reminders of gratefulness.

“So commit yourselves wholeheartedly to these words of mine. Tie them to your hands and wear them on your forehead as reminders. Teach them to your children. Talk about them when you are at home and when you are ON THE ROAD, when you are going to bed and when you are getting up.” Deuteronomy 11:18-19, NLT

Most of us have so many blessings that we often take them for granted. Ask these questions to help your children consider all the ways that God meets their needs:

1. What people and things are most important or special to you? How would your life be different without them?
2. Name 10 blessings or gifts God has given you since this morning. Which ones are easiest to remember to thank him for, and why?
3. Why is it important to express gratitude to people who do nice things for us? Describe how hearing “thank you” makes you feel.
4. How often do you thank God for his blessings? What are some ways we can let him know we appreciate what he does for us?

Family Experience: Pictures of Thankfulness

Use these creative ideas to provide a “snapshot” of what your family is thankful for this Thanksgiving.

- Gratitude Newsflash— A week before Thanksgiving, give each family member a disposable camera (or take turns using a digital camera). Then have them take photos of people or things they’re thankful for. (A parent or older sibling can help young kids.) Try to take photos when no one is looking. Come up with creative ways of doing this, such as taking a picture of a person’s photograph. Develop the pictures and then share them with one another after your Thanksgiving meal.
- Memorable Montage— Create table decorations to use as a Thanksgiving discussion starter. First, have family members each select several photographs for a place mat. (To protect originals, make copies ahead of time.) For each place mat, you’ll also need one 12x18-inch sheet of construction paper, scissors, glue, and clear Contac paper. Have family members cut and arrange their photos to create a collage on one side of their construction paper. Glue the photos to the paper and allow to dry. To protect the place mats, carefully cover both sides with Contac paper. At your Thanksgiving meal, use the place mats to share memories you’re thankful for, to reminisce about fun family activities, and to let family members know how much you appreciate them.

Album: Kris Allen

Artist Info: This 24-year-old singer-songwriter from Arkansas won season eight of American Idol. He's a Christian who served as his church's assistant music director and has done overseas missionary work. Auditioning for the TV show was Allen's "last hurrah" before he got "a real job."
